

AG2120 International Administration and Policy Fall 2024

General description of the course

The course analyzes issues of international policy and interventions, particularly in the domains of conflict management and development. Its overarching goal is to equip students with relevant knowledge and practical skills to analyze the activities of both international and national organizations operating in these domains and their interconnected fields. With an initial focus on the problem of armed conflict, the course investigates the nature and impact of international conflict management interventions, including mediation, sanctions, peacekeeping, transitional justice, and post-conflict reconciliation. The second part of the course deals with foreign aid, the determinants of economic and political development, institutional quality, and international anti-corruption. Questions dealt with during the course relate to whether and how international actors such as the United Nations can prevent and resolve armed conflict; the effectiveness of different forms of transitional justice; how development aid is structured and organized historically and today; and whether states and the international community can effect change – either positive or negative – in terms of democracy, economic growth, and good governance.

Learning outcomes

After passing the course, a student will be able to:

Knowledge and understanding

- analyze in depth some of the key policy issues regulated (or not) at the international level, and how do they interrelate to one another
- assess the implications of different policy approaches and interventions, including both intended and unintended effects
- analyze how international policy efforts interact with national conditions – political, legal, institutional, economic and cultural – to shape outcomes
- examine and critically analyze the methods used in practice in these policy areas, in particular in the areas of conflict management and development aid
- independently produce text in accordance with good academic practice

Skills and abilities

- survey and synthesize existing knowledge on specific policy interventions and their impacts given different contextual conditions and bring these insights to bear to elucidate a specific case or issue
- evaluating policy needs, implementation and outcomes, both with an academic approach and a policy approach
- communicate results of policy analysis to academic audiences and practitioners both verbally and in writing
- argue persuasively in order to draw attention to an issue and promote possible solutions
- assess one others' work and provide feedback constructively

- work effectively under time constraints

Judgment and approach

- understand and critically evaluate, in an in-depth way, social scientific research based on the various analytical perspectives.

Structure and requirements

The course explores two overarching issue areas: conflict management/resolution and development/foreign aid. The course addresses each issue separately in two distinct blocks, with a final policy-related research paper that allows you to integrate insights from both areas.

The course consists of lectures, where new material is introduced, and seminars, largely centered around student presentations and discussion. Combining insights from both research and policy, the lectures seek to give an overview of the issues at hand, and the policy approaches that have been put in place to deal with armed conflict and foster economic and social development. Seminars allow for student engagement with the material through analytical presentations on a given course-related topic, group discussion, and synthesis across course themes.

Skills linked to each phase in the policy process are introduced and applied in specific problem-centered assignments. Students will need to engage actively throughout the course and learn from one another as much as from the teachers involved.

Each block offers two seminars. Students will write one paper for each block, as assigned by the course coordinator, and each student will present one of their written assignments verbally.

All students write a paper for the final paper assignment on a specific country/context. The first step is turning in an abstract and office hours with an instructor to discuss abstracts in a group. Students will then jointly present preliminary findings for their country/context in a student conference. After the holidays, another office hours session with an instructor is available. The final research paper is larger in scope and requires drawing on the course in its entirety. Please see separate documents for instructions for each of these assignments.

Assignments and grading

25% Paper and presentation 1 (each student will write ONE paper for seminar 1 or 2):

- Policy brief on responses to armed conflict OR
- Advocacy brief using survey data on post-conflict reconciliation

25% Paper and presentation 2 (each student will write ONE paper for seminar 3 or 4):

- Literature review on development cooperation OR
- Policy brief on anti-corruption

40% Research paper

10% Presentation

All assignments will be graded on a scale from 1-7, where 1-2 correspond to Fail, 3-5 to Pass, and 6-7 to High Pass. The course grade is a weighted average of all assignments. To receive a High Pass for the course, the weighted average must be 5.6 or above. To Pass the course, you must pass all assignments. Late submissions cannot receive a High Pass.

Participation and presentations

Students are expected to read the course literature, to prepare rigorously for seminars, and participate actively during seminars. If you come to seminars thinking that you will learn the material vicariously through your classmates, you're wrong. Come to class ready to talk intelligently about the readings and topics in lecture. If your number one fear is public speaking, jot down a question or a debate the reading sparked in your mind.

Public speaking is scary! A popular joke from Jerry Seinfeld on this topic: "According to most studies, people's number one fear is public speaking. Number two is death. Death is number two. Does that sound right? This means to the average person, if you go to a funeral, you're better off in the casket than doing the eulogy!" Preparation is key to good public speaking. Here is some good advice for public speaking and for making a clear PowerPoint presentation to accompany your talk. Notice that both emphasize that "practice makes perfect!"

Instructors involved in the course

KK – Kristen Kao (Course Coordinator)	kristen.kao@gu.se
ML– Magnus Lundgren	magnus.lundgren@gu.se
AC – Agnes Cornell	agnes.cornell@pol.gu.se
MG – Marcia Grimes	marcia.grimes@pol.gu.se

Literature

The literature for this course consists of chapters, articles, and policy reports, as detailed below. The literature combines theoretical and different type of empirical research and, for some lectures, texts written for policy audiences or journalistic material. Unless a link is provided, the literature can be found via the university library. If you want some advice about how to read academic political science texts, this short guide may be useful for you.

Some of the texts contain quantitative analyses, such as regression analysis, which are common tools in empirical political science. While there is no expectation that you will understand all aspects of such analytical methods, you should train and develop your ability to consume this type of academic texts by identifying and understanding the key questions and findings. If you have no prior exposure to quantitative methods, we recommend that you take a look at some intro text books or guides that may help you to decode this type of analysis, such as this page or this blog post (you may find many other resources online).

About equal treatment

The University of Gothenburg aims to promote equal rights and opportunities for students and employees and to combat discrimination related to gender, gender identity or gender expressions, ethnicity, religion or other beliefs, sexual orientation, disability or age. If, however, you as a student at the Department of Political Science become subject to such acts and actions, we encourage you to contact us to enable the opportunity for appropriate action. You can contact: the course coordinator, director of studies Agnes Cornell, equal treatment representative Caroline Fällgren, or student counselor Eva Nilsson. Student counselors have confidentiality. You can also turn to these persons if you experience problems or discomfort in the study environment, even if not targeted at you. All contact information is available on our website.

Academic Writing

The three hallmarks of good academic writing are clarity, precision, and intellectual honesty. Unlike some other forms of writing, academic texts should be free from ambiguity, and they should offer the reader plainly stated arguments, not rhetorical tricks. This does not mean that they have to be boring, of course, but it does mean that, whenever there is a conflict between being linguistically elegant and clear, the latter should take precedence. For example, in academic writing, it might be preferable to consistently use the same terms for the same concepts instead of using synonyms, even though this would be dull in other types of writing (such as fiction). To organize the text, a good rule of thumb is to make one point per paragraph.

Good academic writing is cumulative; it proceeds from, communicates with, and seeks to contribute to previous work on the topic of choice. It is essential that the author (or authors) gives due credit to previous work. There should never be any doubt as to whether segments of text, ideas, claims or results are the author's own or drawn from other sources. To ensure this, academic writing requires a transparent system of citation. Never 'copy and paste' text from other sources without citing those sources and enclosing direct quotes in quotation marks. Copying text without indicating it is a quotation constitutes plagiarism. Use references consistently and accurately. These requirements hold for all academic texts, from short student assignments and course papers to master theses and academic books and journal articles. Further information and relevant links are found on Canvas.

Attempts to deceive during examinations

An attempt to deceive during examinations means that a student has attempted to give an impression of their performance in a written exam or some of form of assessment that is not true. That is what is commonly referred to as cheating, or attempting to cheat. There are different kinds of attempts to deceive, such as plagiarism, prohibited aids and prohibited collaboration. Deception can also take other forms.

- Plagiarism means that a student has presented someone else's text or other material as if it were their own text or material.
- Prohibited aid means that a student has used aids, including AI, that were not permitted according to the instructions.
- Prohibited collaboration means that students have collaborated with each other in breach of the instructions.

Plagiarism: Copying material from the Internet, from books, journals, reports, or from a fellow student and then presenting it as one's own is strictly forbidden! Plagiarism is theft of someone else's work and will result in immediate fail of the assignment. Please note that the inclusion of a source in a bibliography list is not in itself sufficient attribution of another's work. In addition, unless it is a proper citation with a reference, any direct copying of text is forbidden. All submitted student work is screened with a program called Ouriginal, which compares a student's written work with published materials (including everything published on the internet) and all the work from prior students, to detect plagiarism. The material you have read and based your arguments and factual statements on should always be referenced using proper referencing technique. More information on references and how to avoid plagiarism can be found here: <https://studentportal.gu.se/english/help-and-guidance/search-read-write/reference-management-and-plagiarism>

Prohibited aid: All your submitted texts should be your own original writing, and not written by someone else or generated by AI. Unless there are specific instructions for the use of AI for an assignment, it should not be used and presented as your own text. The use of any tools to cheat during on campus exams (e.g. DISA) is also strictly forbidden.

Prohibited collaboration: students can discuss their work, but individual submissions must be your own original writing, and hence not too similar the work of others. Be extra careful to avoid using common notes from such collaborations.

Any kind of cheating on examinations is considered a serious offence. Proved or suspected cheating will be reported to the Disciplinary Committee of the University of Gothenburg, in accordance with the procedure of disciplinary matters at the department of political science.

The consequences may be severe for a student if found guilty. A student may be suspended from classes and campus for a determined time-period (from 3 weeks to half a year), which will result in a temporary suspension of all financial aid (including CSN) and may jeopardize a student's residence permit status. More information on disciplinary matters, including plagiarism and its consequences, can be found here: <https://studentportal.gu.se/english/study-environment-and-rules/disciplinary-matters/>

Policies for attendance and assignment submission:

Seminar assignments:

Too long. If the assignment exceeds the stipulated word length, the grading of the assignment will be affected negatively.

Did not submit a seminar assignment on time: If you submit your assignments after the deadline, this will affect the grading negatively. You cannot receive a “pass with distinction” grade on a late assignment. You will need to submit the assignment in a “late/revised” submission box by 21 February 2025.

Did not participate in a seminar: Contact the instructor of the seminar you missed. You will need to write a compensation assignment and submit by latest 21 February 2025. The assignment is to write 2-page critical discussion of two other student papers selected by the seminar instructor.

Did not make a seminar presentation: You will need to record a 4-minute video presentation of your brief/paper with slides and submit by 21 February 2025.

Final paper and student conference absences/missing assignments:

Did not submit final paper abstract on time: If you do not submit your abstract by 5pm, 12 December 2024, you will not be allowed to participate in the student conference on 19

December 2024. We want to ensure all students are well-equipped to participate in the group work.

Did not participate in student conference: If you are not able to participate in the student conference on 19 December 2024, you will need to record a video presentation of your country brief (5-8 minutes) and write a 4-page discussion paper with an in-depth critical appraisal of two other student papers as designated by the course coordinator by 21 February 2025.

Did not submit final research paper on time: You will need to submit your paper by 21 February 2025, in the late/revised box. You cannot receive a “pass with distinction” grade on a late assignment. In addition, you will need to record a video presentation of your paper (5-8 minutes) and write a 4-page discussion paper with an in-depth critical appraisal of two other student papers as designated by the course coordinator.

Detailed course description

Block 1: Armed conflict and international policy responses

Date	Time	Instr.	Topic
5 Nov	10.15-11.00	KK	Course introduction
5 Nov	11.15-12.00	KK	International regimes and policy interventions Kaul, Inge, Grunberg, Isabelle, & Stern, Marc. A. (1999). Global public goods: international cooperation in the 21st century, 2-19. Gutner, Tamar., & Thompson, Alexander (2010). The politics of IO performance: A framework. The review of international organizations, 5(3), 227-240 (no need to read 241-248). Supplementary (not mandatory): Acquaint yourself with the UN Sustainable Development Goals here and read “The Reductive Seduction of Other People’s Problems” available here.
5 Nov	13.15-15.00	KK	Instructions for seminar assignments and introduction to final paper assignment
6 Nov	11.15-13.00	ML	Armed conflict: origins and consequences World Bank (2018) A Surge and Expansion of Violent Conflict. Chapter 1 in Pathways for Peace: Inclusive Approaches to Preventing Violent Conflict. Walter, Barbara F. (2009). Bargaining failures and civil war. Annual Review of Political Science, 12, 243-261. Fjelde, Hanne, Knutsen, Carl Henrik., & Nygård, Håvard M. (2021). Which Institutions Matter? Re-Considering the Democratic Civil Peace. International Studies Quarterly, 65(1), 223-237. Rosen, Armin (2013). The origins of the war in the DRC: How the region became overrun by warlords and lacking any kind of functional government. The Atlantic, June 26, 2013.
12 Nov	10.15-12.00	ML	International responses to armed conflict: Sanctions Gowan, Richard., & Stedman, Stephen. J. (2018). The international regime for treating civil war, 1988–2017. Dædalus, 147(1), 171-184. Lektzian, D., & Souva, M. (2007). An institutional theory of sanctions onset and success. Journal of Conflict Resolution, 51(6), 848-871. Drezner, D. W. (2011). Sanctions sometimes smart: targeted sanctions in theory and practice. International studies review, 13(1), 96-108. Radtke, M., & Jo, H. (2018). Fighting the Hydra: United Nations sanctions and rebel groups. Journal of Peace Research, 55(6), 759-773. Supplementary (not mandatory): Lundgren, M., & Klamberg, M. (2023). Selective Attention: The United Nations Security Council and Armed Conflict. British Journal of Political Science, 53(3), 958-979. Allen, S. H. (2022). The uncertain impact of sanctions on Russia. Nature Human Behaviour, 23 May 2022, 761-762.

13 Nov	13.15-15.00	ML	International responses to armed conflict: Mediation and peacekeeping Wallensteen, Peter, & Svensson, Isak (2014). Talking peace: International mediation in armed conflicts. Journal of Peace Research, 51(2), 315-327. Duursma, Allard (2020). African Solutions to African Challenges: The Role of Legitimacy in Mediating Civil Wars in Africa. International Organization, 74(2), 295-330. Walter, Barbara F., Howard, Lise. M., & Fortna, Virginia Page (2019). The extraordinary relationship between peacekeeping and peace. British Journal of Political Science, 1-18. Paris, Roland (2010). Saving liberal peacebuilding. Review of International Studies, 36(2), 337-365. Supplementary (not mandatory): Findlay, Trevor (2002). The use of force in UN peace operations. Oxford University Press. Pages 1-13. Lee, Sabine., & Bartels, Susan (2020). ‘They put a few coins in your hand to drop a baby in you’: a study of peacekeeper-fathered children in Haiti. International Peacekeeping, 27(2), 177-209.
14 Nov	10.15-12.00	KK	Foundations of transitional justice Guidance Note of the Secretary General. 2023. Transitional Justice: A Strategic Tool for People, Prevention and Peace. United Nations. https://www.ohchr.org/sites/default/files/documents/issues/transitionaljustice/s-g-guidance-note/2023_07_guidance_note_transitional_justice_en.pdf Lambourne, Wendy. (2009). Transitional justice and peacebuilding after mass violence. International journal of transitional justice, 3(1), 28-48. Leebaw, Bronwyn A. (2008). The irreconcilable goals of transitional justice. Human Rights Quarterly, 30(1), 95-118. Jack L. Snyder and Leslie Vinjamuri. (2003). “Trials and Errors: Principle and Pragmatism in Strategies of International Justice,” International Security 28:3: 5-44. Orentlicher, Diane. F. (1990). Settling accounts: The duty to prosecute human rights violations of a prior regime. Yale Le, 100, 2537. Supplementary (not mandatory): United Nations. (2008). What is Transitional Justice? United Nations Background Note. https://www.un.org/peacebuilding/sites/www.un.org.peacebuilding/files/documents/26_02_2008_background_note.pdf Mross, Karina. (2019). First Peace, then Democracy? Evaluating Strategies of International Support at Critical Junctures after Civil War, International Peacekeeping, 26(2), 190-215.
15 Nov	10.15-12.00		Measuring Transitional Justice and Outcomes Thoms, Oskar, James Ron, and Roland Paris. (2008). The effects of transitional justice mechanisms. A summary of empiric research findings and implications for analysts and practitioners centre for international policy studies. Ottawa: University of Ottawa. https://www.files.ethz.ch/isn/103597/FullText.pdf

Pham, Phuong, and Patrick Vinck. (2007). Empirical research and the development and assessment of transitional justice mechanisms. The International Journal of Transitional Justice 1(2), 231-248.

Olsen, T. D., Payne, L. A., & Reiter, A. G. (2010). The justice balance: When transitional justice improves human rights and democracy. Human Rights Quarterly. 32(4): 980-1007.

Supplementary (not mandatory):

Measuring Results and Monitoring Progress of Transitional Justice Processes. International Center for Transitional Justice (ICTJ). Advocacy Brief. https://www.ictj.org/sites/default/files/ICTJ_Report_Measuring%20Results_EN.pdf

Dancy, Geoff, et al. (2019). Behind bars and bargains: New findings on transitional justice in emerging democracies. International Studies Quarterly 63(1), 99-110.

Gready, Paul., & Robins, Simon. (2020). Transitional Justice and Theories of Change: Towards evaluation as understanding. International Journal of Transitional Justice, 14(2), 280-299.

15 Nov 12.15-13.00 KK

Outcomes of transitional justice in comparative perspective

Gibson, James L. (2006). Overcoming apartheid: Can truth reconcile a divided nation? The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, 603(1), 82-110.

Brounéus, Karen. (2010). The trauma of truth telling: Effects of witnessing in the Rwandan Gacaca courts on psychological health. Journal of Conflict Resolution, 54(3), 408-437.

Revkin, Mara R., and Kristen Kao. (2023). No Peace Without Punishment? Reintegrating Islamic State “Collaborators” in Iraq. The American Journal of Comparative Law, 71(4), 989-1032.

Oomen, Barbara. (2005). Donor-driven justice and its discontents: The case of Rwanda. Development and Change, 36(5), 887-910.

David, R. (2006). From Prague to Baghdad: Lustration systems and their political effects. Government and Opposition, 41(3), 347-372.

Supplementary (not mandatory):

Kao, Kristen and Mara Revkin. (2023). Retribution or Reconciliation? Attitudes Towards Rebel Collaborators After Conflict. American Journal of Political Science.

Quinn, Joanna R. (2007). Social reconstruction in Uganda: The role of customary mechanisms in transitional justice. Human Rights Review, 8, 389-407.

Samii, Cyrus. (2013). Who wants to forgive and forget? Transitional justice preferences in postwar Burundi. Journal of Peace Research, 50(2), 219-233.

Nov 15 15.00

Deadline: Sign up for seminars if you have a preference!

20 Nov 17.00

Deadline seminar assignments 1 & 2: International responses to civil conflict and Transitional justice

21 Nov 10.15-12.00 ML

SEMINAR 1: International responses to civil conflict (Group A)

21 Nov	13.15-15.00	ML	SEMINAR 2: International responses to civil conflict (Group B)
25 Nov	10.15-12.00	KK	SEMINAR 2: Transitional justice (Group A)
25 Nov	13.15-15.00	KK	SEMINAR 2: Transitional justice (Group B)

Block 2: Aid and development

26 Nov	10.15-12.00	AC	Aid and development. Setting the stage: Institutions and actors in development cooperation Alesina, Alberto, and David Dollar. 2000. "Who Gives Foreign Aid to Whom and Why?". Journal of Economic Growth 5: 33-63. Bermeo, Sarah Blodgett. 2017. "Aid Allocation and Targeted Development in an Increasingly Connected World." International organization 71(4):735-66. Bickenbach, Frank, Asithandile Mbelu, and Peter Nunnenkamp. 2019. "Is foreign aid concentrated increasingly on needy and deserving recipient countries? An analysis of Theil indices, 1995–2015." World Development (115):1-16. Dreher, Axel, Valentin Lang, and Bernhard Reinsberg. 2024. "Aid effectiveness and donor motives." World Development 176:106501. Briggs, Ryan C. 2021. "Why Does Aid Not Target the Poorest?" International Studies Quarterly 65(3):739-52.
28 Nov	13.15-15.00	AC	Aid and Economic Development: Theory and Empirical Evidence Banerjee, Abhijit, Esther Duflo, Nathanael Goldberg, Dean Karlan, Robert Osei, William Parienté, Jeremy Shapiro, Bram Thuysbaert, and Christopher Udry. 2015. "A multifaceted program causes lasting progress for the very poor: Evidence from six countries." Science 348(6236): Burnside, Craig, and David Dollar. 2000. "Aid, Policies, and Growth." American Economic Review 90: 847-68. Clemens, Michael A., Steven Radelet, Rikhil R. Bhavnani, and Samuel Bazzi. 2012. "Counting Chickens when they Hatch: Timing and the Effects of Aid on Growth." The Economic Journal 122(561):590-617. Kotsadam, Andreas, Gudrun Østby, Siri Aas Rustad, Andreas Forø Tollefsen, and Henrik Urdal. 2018. "Development aid and infant mortality. Micro-level evidence from Nigeria." World Development 105:59-69. Supplementary Replies etc. (not mandatory): Burnside, Craig, and David Dollar. 2004. "Aid, policies, and growth: reply." American Economic Review 94(3):781-84. Burnside, A Craig, and David Dollar. 2004. "Aid, policies, and growth: revisiting the evidence." Policies, and Growth: Revisiting the Evidence (March 18, 2004). Easterly, William, Ross Levine, and David Roodman. 2004. "Aid, policies, and growth: comment." American Economic Review 94(3):774-80.
29 Nov	13.15-15.00	AC	Aid and democracy Ahmed, Faisal Z. 2012. "The Perils of Unearned Foreign Income: Aid, Remittances, and Government Survival." American Political Science Review 106(01):146-65. Baldwin, Kate, and Matthew S. Winters. 2023. "Foreign Aid and Political Support: How Politicians' Aid Oversight Capacity and Voter Information Condition Credit-Giving." World Politics 75(1): 1-42.

			Dietrich, Simone., and Joseph Wright. 2015. Foreign aid allocation tactics and democratic change in Africa. The Journal of Politics, 77(1), 216-234. Hyde, Susan D., Emily Lamb, and Oren Samet. 2023. "Promoting Democracy under Electoral Authoritarianism: Evidence from Cambodia." Comparative Political Studies 56(7):1029-71. Miller, Michael K. 2020. "The Strategic Origins of Electoral Authoritarianism." British Journal of Political Science 50(1):17-44.
2 Dec	10.15-12.00	MG	Aid and institutional quality Dietrich, Simone, and Matthew S. Winters. 2021. "Foreign Aid and Quality of Government." In Handbook of the Quality of Government. Oxford University Press. (available online via university library) Girod, Desha M., and Jennifer L. Tobin. 2016. "Take the Money and Run: The Determinants of Compliance with Aid Agreements." International Organization 70(1):209-39 Cheeseman et al. 2024. Foreign aid withdrawals and suspensions: Why, when and are they effective? World Development. 178. Dávid-Barrett, Elizabeth, et al. 2020. "Controlling corruption in development aid: new evidence from contract-level data." Studies in Comparative International Development 55: 481-515.
3 Dec	10.15-12.00	MG	International anti-corruption efforts Lohaus, Mathis and Ellen Gutterman. 2021. International Efforts to Combat Corruption. In Bågenholm, A., M. Bauhr, M. Grimes and B. Rothstein (eds). Handbook of the Quality of Government. Oxford: Oxford University Press. Jensen, Nathan M., and Edmund J. Malesky. 2018. Nonstate Actors and Compliance with International Agreements: An Empirical Analysis of the OECD Anti-Bribery Convention. International Organization 72(1): 33-69. Nistotskaya et al. 2024. Evidence-Based Anti-Corruption? Evaluation of Sida's Efforts to Reduce Corruption in Partner Countries. Chapter 2: "The Nature of Corruption and Corruption Change"
5 Dec	17.00		Deadline seminar assignments 3: Development Cooperation
6 Dec	10.15-12.00	AC	SEMINAR 3: Development cooperation (Group A)
	13.15-15.00	AC	SEMINAR 3: Development cooperation (Group B)
9 Dec	17.00		Deadline seminar assignments 4: Anti-corruption
10 Dec	10.15-12.00	MG	SEMINAR 4: Anti-corruption (Group A)
	13.15-15.00	MG	SEMINAR 4: Anti-corruption (Group B)
13 Dec	17.00		Deadline: Abstract for final paper

16 Dec	15.00-17.00	KK	Final paper supervision I (Zoom)
16 Dec	10.00-12.00	MG	Final paper supervision I (Zoom)
Dec 17-18			Group Work
19 Dec	9.15-16.00	KK, MG	Student conference (Compulsory, All-Day, All students) KK 9.15-12.00 MG 13.15-16.00
8 Jan	15.00-17.00	KK	Final paper supervision II (Zoom)
8 Jan	13.00-15.00	MG	Final paper supervision II (Zoom)
17 Jan	17.00		Deadline: Final Papers
21 Feb	17.00		Make-up Assignments Due if Needed